Dear Mr. Griffin:

This responds to your recent letters to Richard Anderson and Ed Bastian requesting a meeting to discuss the proposed Delta-Northwest merger.

As you may have seen, an announcement was made last week regarding the post-merger officer team. It was announced that Ed Bastian will assume the duties of president and CEO of NWA until the two airlines are fully integrated, while retaining the duties of president and CFO of Delta.

Ed and I will be glad to meet with you to discuss post-merger matters at NWA. We will be in Minneapolis frequently in the coming weeks and as our schedules firm up, I will coordinate with you a mutually convenient date to meet. It would be helpful if you could suggest dates you could be available to meet in Minneapolis in August and early September.

In the meantime as I am sure you know, Northwest remains an independent carrier with its own management structure, and any current issues or concerns prior to closing should be directed to them.

Sincerely,

cc: Richard Anderson
